The University of Texas at San Antonio Department of Economics
Tenure-Track Position in Economics at the rank of Assistant Professor

The University of Texas at San Antonio Department of Economics invites applicants for a tenure-track position beginning Fall 2020.

Qualifications

Required Qualifications: The Department of Economics at the University of Texas at San Antonio (UTSA) seeks to recruit an Assistant Professor for a tenure-track position with a preference for healthcare economics and policy or related applied microeconomics areas.

Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Economics (or related area), although exceptional ABD candidates who will have completed all requirements for the Ph.D. degree by August 2020 will also be considered. Candidates should demonstrate a strong potential for publishing in top-tier economics journals. Candidates should have strong verbal and written communication skills, and the ability and desire to work collegially with faculty and students (as demonstrated by student feedback). Candidates will be expected to participate in departmental service activities. Candidates are also expected to pursue economics or cross-disciplinary research grants where feasible. The successful candidate will be able to teach both undergraduate and graduate economics courses, and to work with and be sensitive to the educational needs of a diverse urban population and support the university’s commitment to thrive as a Hispanic Serving Institution and a model for student success.
